

Celebrating Life Decades After T Cancer

Shares the stories of sixty-two African American breast cancer survivors and discusses the high incidence of the disease among Black women and how to live with it

Life. There are so many decisions. So much to think of, remember, plan, do, be, and accomplish. If only there was someone with wise words, a plan, some direction for our lives. Luci Swindoll has spoken to thousands of women over the course of her lifetime. She finds reason for laughter in the midst of tears. She also knows?from experience?the importance of listening, learning, laughing, and loving her way through life. Between laughing with friends and adopting humor as a basic lifestyle, Luci brings balance and wisdom your way as she openly shares her life. For more than 60 years, she's maintained a joyful spirit, a grateful heart, and a rich, purposeful relationship with God. Let Luci show you how to not only live life, but celebrate it.

Imagine the hope and comfort you will feel surrounded by forty inspiring breast cancer survivors as they share stories of celebrating life twenty, forty, even fifty years after diagnosis. You'll be welcomed into an inner circle of support as each woman shares her personal journey through breast cancer and insight about why she believes she has thrived for decades beyond diagnosis. Whether you are a survivor, caregiver, family, friend, or part of an oncology team, this book will help quiet fear, calm anxiety, and offer the priceless gift of hope. Beverly McKee, MSW, LCSW, is a mental health therapist and Stage III breast cancer survivor. She was inspired to compile this powerful collection of stories after planning a party set for October 17, 2052, exactly forty years in the future from the date of her own diagnosis. You are invited to meet these unforgettable women during a worldwide book tour! For details and to learn how you can join an exclusive online book club visit www.BeverlyMcKee.com.

"In the decades of the 1970-90s, tens of thousands of U.S. citizens traveled to Central America. For many it was their first time outside the borders of the U.S. In a time marked by civil war and violence they went to see the reality of poverty and experience the resilient hope of the Central American people. What they saw and experienced left a permanent mark. Their vantage point on the world was radically altered. Drawn from interviews with hundreds of these solidarity activists, Like Grains of Wheat offers their stories."--BOOK JACKET.Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America, Inc. All Rights Reserved

Marene J. Austin had a dream that eventually compelled her to write Celebrate Life's Lessons. The book is about how she turned the story of her own life into a walk of faith. She was always hearing a voice and blindly followed that voice to her success. Marene has a humorous way of presenting life's lessons. It is all about how a person can learn to dream and then turn that dream into a reality.

Wanted: Christians with wisdom, spiritual maturity, proven character. Compassion and enthusiasm required. Must be willing to influence others. Hours varied. Grey hair a plus. Dreaming of retirement? Already retired? Why not consider an exciting career change instead? Join the thousands of mature Christians who have discovered new challenges and fulfillment while serving in churches, ministries, and neighborhoods across North America and around the globe. Why now? Because these are the years when your wisdom, energy, and availability can combine for the greatest effectiveness in ministry. Why service? Because when you look back on your life, nothing you could pursue could ever be as fulfilling and rewarding - not careers, not sports or hobbies, not leisure or money. Why me? Because you can offer what young people may not have - the wisdom of experience, spiritual depth, and time. And because the world needs more models of maturity in action! Let author Roger Palms introduce you to a world of opportunities and some believers who are already celebrating their best years by serving God and others!

Inman presents the story of one POW's life journey since the Korean War, including his 34 months as a POW who survived torture and beatings, and learned that life was to be celebrated, not lamented. (Social Issues)

This daily devotional book has been a God-led inspiration from its very start-up; from its original Bible verse and note of encouragement to some coworkers and family members to people around the world via my email network. Our God is so awesome! I've had people return emails to me or speak to me and ask, "How did you know that I needed that today?" or "How did you know I was going through this?" That is when I thankfully remind them that God inspired each and every one of these devotionals. I am just being faithful and following His directions. Now I'm led to put them into a year of daily devotions book to reach others. Occasionally, my emailed devotionals have colored photographs that I take as God inspired message for the day. Unfortunately, I couldn't include those in this book. I did include a photo in grayscale at the beginning of each month; the cover photo is a God-blessed look at an Alaskan sunset. I am so thankful that God is working in my life. I want to encourage each of you to grasp hold of whatever gift He has blessed you with and step out in trust and faith to go forth and to share it with others. When you feel down, just start counting each of the blessings God has touched you with in your life; and you will feel His Presence and comfort to encourage you. We are never alone; He is just a prayer away; nothing is impossible for our God. He is not done with us yet. He is asking us to be obedient in our service to Him, and He will help us grow in our faith. Trust in Him, and you will be astounded at what He has in store for you.

50 Ways to Celebrate Life After 50

Celebrating 60 is a set of reflections on living that can make any life more thoughtful, responsive, and joyful for anyone using it as a compass. The notion that so many aspects of life over so many years are worthy of celebration is a framework that would serve us all well across our lives. Ronna's sense and understanding of humanity is one of the truest expressions that I have experienced in a literary form. She weaves threads of gentle reflection into a tapestry of important topics, such as friendship and family, spirituality and abundance. Her honest disclosure of what she has navigated, created, survived, and loved touches minds and hearts in a way that is deeply settling, both emotionally and intellectually. Fern Snart, Dean Emeritus, Faculty of Education (University of Alberta) This is an extraordinarily human book, a life opened with honesty and transparency. As humans, we unfold and re-align as we age. Celebrating 60 rings true to the tasks and sensitivities of this pivotal decade of life. Ronna doesn't just take us there in her wisdom, but leads us with her keen insight, humour and grace. I have read Celebrating 60 at the fulcrum of the same decade of my life. I wish that I had the self-awareness and insight into the unique challenges and potentials of this decade that Ronna had as she entered it. This is a think-about book, perhaps one to be read with a personal journal open nearby. There are many zingers of compact wisdom here to be claimed! "In Stupid things I won't do when I get old, Petro candidly addresses the fears, frustrations, and stereotypes that accompany aging. He offers a blueprint for the new old age, and an understanding that aging and illness are not the same. As he writes, 'I meant the list as a pointed reminder--to me--to make different choices when I eventually cross the threshold to 'old'" -- Excerpt from jacket flap.

Accessible background and insights on each scripture text in the three-year Sunday lectionary cycle. An invaluable resource for preachers, lectors, liturgical musicians, catechists and more.

The back cover picture of the historic poster of the Led Zeppelin - Who concert, is agreed among many as being "the best concert ever," (originals currently selling for big bucks) is just one example of why copies of this proof edition will, no doubt, be a valued collectible as well..Imagine yourself watching a movie and the next thing you know, not only do you see yourself on the big screen in a cameo role of a very popular movie, but you are being played by one of the biggest stars in the history of Hollywood! Then a couple of years later, after you forgot all about this cameo role and thought everybody else did too, you see this star dressed up as your clone again with your name and complete persona, dancing with Jennifer Lopez to music by Ludacris! Hold on, as great as you look, you can't help but ask yourself, why isn't that you for real dancing with J Lo? Then you go online, to find out that not only does your name bring millions of results, but an entire industry is being built around you! For openers, Paramount Films had "committed" to producer Ben Stiller, $100,000,000 to make the Les Grossman movie. In addition, via Tom Cruise of course, who according to your Internet sources, has "made you his alter ego" you are now involved with the production of a long list of projects totaling into the billions! Fantastic huh? But one hitch: so far no one has offered you a dollar! What do you do? After a couple more years of the "Hollywood" people claiming you are made up, you decide to establish your brand and tell the World your side of the story! This book does exactly that, including the credit of producing in real time, "the best concert ever" at the amazing age of 21, to documenting both direct and indirect ties to all the people responsible for Mr. Cruise's character and "alter ego" Les Grossman! You will read the life story of the real Les Grossman, including characters he just about develops in 3D form all be it print. Les, am not sure what this sentence is trying to relay?!?  This includes his Mom, who he went into the concert business with, and the exact conversation when she had the unpleasant task of telling him his beloved Father had passed on. Also included are many of the extremely talented musicians, singers, songwriters, producers, etc. he worked with and many others he traveled with. You will be motivated in knowing there are no "life struggles" that can keep you from celebrating life as long as you don't let them. The bottom line, like they say in boardrooms across the globe, is the next person to read this book who is not unquestionably certain that the Tom Cruise character "Les Grossman" is NOT based on the real Les Grossman--will be the first! Do you hear that Paramount? Essentially join the real Les Grossman while he is the first American person in the music business to hear Led Zeppelin, as he produced a FM radio station when FM effective meant find me, when he opens the first Georgetown organic grocery store where the smoothie was invented, help create the first band to combine rock and country music, associate produced the first David Lynch movies along with an early martin Scorsese movie, fights with rock stars including Country Joe, Buddy Miles, Neil Young, Cheap Trick's manager, David Crosby and others, his poker playing days, his wild live saving 18 month Jamaican sabbatical when you had to be in Jamaica to hear Reggae, his witnessing of World changing events and most important of course his setting the record straight. The facts are the facts!!

The Foxfire Book

Every day is a gift that we have been given from God and that's something to celebrate! God blesses us daily with so many good things and sometimes we just need to slow down, look around at His creation, and enjoy the blessings He has given us! This book helps you celebrate those good things with your mate, your children, your church family, and your friends. It gives you ideas to plan a day once a month to do something fun and exciting with those you love and care for. Each celebration includes a theme, verses to read and meditate on, and recipes to make your celebrating special! Being together is such a good way to encourage each other, laugh with each other, and make some memories for years to come! Hopefully the ideas in this book will help you and even maybe spark a few ideas of your own! It might take a little extra work on your part, but it will be worth it! God is always good and we are always loved. Everyday is a gift He has given us and we get to choose how we live it. Let's celebrate it!
